MOHD. KHAIRUL memujuk udang galah yang dijualnya di bazar Ramadan Ocean View, Jelutong, GeorgeTown semalam.

Cari rezeki jual udang galah RM1 seekor

GEORGE TOWN – Seorang bekas operator kilang memilih untuk berniaga udang galah viral dengan hanya RM1 seekor di gerai bazar Ramadan Ocean View, Jelutong di sini sejak hari pertama Ramadan minggu lalu.

Mohd. Khairul Azhar, 29 berkata, dia mengambil peluang menjual hasil laut dari Perak itu di celah deretan gerai makanan dan minuman di situ untuk pelanggan dan peminat udang galah di kawasan perumahan berkenaan.

Menurutnya, sambutan yang menggalakan diterima daripada pelbagai lapisan masyarakat setiap kali dia memulakan perniagaan seawal pukul 3 petang.

"Saya akan membeli kira-kira 50 kilogram udang galah dari pembekal setiap kali stok hampir habis. Bekalan ini biasanya diambil untuk tempoh setiap dua hari bagi tujuan mengekalkan kesegarannya.

Allhamdulillah, hasil jualan ini habis dalam masa dua hari, bergantung pada jumlah ke-hadiran pelanggan di bazar dan cuaca pada hari itu," katanya ketika ditemui Kosmo! di sini semalam.

Mohd. Khairul yang berasal dari Kuala Krai, Kelantan itu memberitahu, dia lebih menyarankan agar pelanggan membeli udang galah secara kilogram disebabkan kuantitinya dikatakan lebih banyak.

"Ini kerana, saiz udang yang dijual semuanya tidak sama dan harga untuk setengah kilogram udang dijual pada harga RM20. Pelanggan akan dapat lebih daripada 20 ekor.

"Perniagaan ini masih baharu dan saya dalam usaha menyimpan wang tabung daripada hasil jualan udang galah ini esokan turut terjejas akibat pandemik Covid-19," ujar bapa kepada seorang cahaya mata itu.

Ceritanya lagi, pada mulanya dia hanya menjadikan perniagaan itu secara sampingan selepas terlibat kemalangan jalan raya Februari tahun lalu.

KOTA KINABALU: The authorities in Sabah and Johor have seized a total of 140kg of sea products in two separate incidents.

In Sabah, a routine sea patrol and check on fishermen off Semporna district led to the discovery of over 70kg of fish caught using explosives.

The fish were seized from two men near Bum-Bum Island at about 4.30pm on Tuesday.

Semporna Marine Police operations base commanding officer Deputy Supt Muhammad Ismail said the fishermen, in their 30s, were asked how they got a big catch.

"Further questioning led to the suspects admitting that they used fish bombs," he said.

He said the fish, worth RM8,170, were confiscated along with two reels of hose, a compressor, two pump engines and a boat.

The suspects will be investigated under the Fisheries Act 1985 for possessing fish caught using explosives.

"We welcome any information relating to crime at sea," he said, adding that the police could be contacted at 019-283 1197.

In Iskandar Puteri, the Malaysian Quarantine and Inspection Services Department (Maqis) seized about 70kg of frozen slipper lobsters worth RM8,400 at the Port of Tanjung Pelepas.

Johor Maqis director Hizzuan Hashim said the lobsters were imported from Indonesia and seized during a routine inspection at the port at about 3pm on Tuesday.

"The inspection was made on a frozen fish container and investigations revealed that the slipper lobsters were brought in without an import permit.

"All the lobsters were then confiscated for investigations," he said in a statement.

He added that the case was being investigated under Section 11(1) of the Malaysia Quarantine and Inspection Services 2011 (Act 728) for importing agricultural products without valid documents.

He said that a person could be fined not more than RM100,000 or jailed for a period not exceeding six years, or both, if convicted under the Act.

Illegal catch: The fish caught using explosives and other items seized from two men off Sabah waters.
